ENDANGERED & THREATENED SPECIES

The Endangered Species Act is one of the strongest, most effective wildlife protection laws in the world. It was passed more than 40 years ago to provide protection for wildlife, fish and plant species that are in danger of extinction. In recognition of this Act, Cleveland Hopkins International Airport invited Northeast Ohio young and aspiring artists to put their creative skills to work for wildlife. Youth artists were encouraged to learn about the plight of endangered species and wildlife around the globe with special emphasis on Ohio's Endangered and Threatened Species.
